

October 30, 2013

Dear colleagues and partners,

As the academic director of the Graz International Summer School Seggau 2014 – Transformation and Change: Europe and Beyond, I am very happy to present you with information on our 2014 edition. Focusing on the emphasis areas of the University of Graz – South Eastern Europe and North, Central and South America – this year's summer school will take place from June 29th to July 12th, 2014 at Seggau Castle in Styria, in the wine region close to the Slovene border.

Emphasizing on the aspects of transformation processes and demographic change, interdisciplinary morning lectures will provide the context for the six specialized seminar workshops in the afternoon. The Graz International Summer School Seggau is designed for internationally oriented, highly motivated students from all disciplines, who wish to deepen their understanding of current European and international affairs by studying and discussing global developments and challenges within the context of transformation processes and demographic change reflecting aspects of individual, social, political, religious, cultural, literary, regional, economic, cohort and national identities.

Enclosed please find our brochure and poster containing all relevant information that we kindly ask you to pass on to your colleagues and students. There will be various scholarship schemes available, so please encourage your students to apply. In the past, students and professors from 35 different countries have provided a diverse and stimulating international classroom, and we would love to welcome students from your university to this exciting summer school.

We have already provided you with an electronic web-folder, which we would kindly ask you to distribute via list servers, newsletters and to post them on relevant websites. Further information is also available on our website: <http://international.uni-graz.at/en/gusegg/>.

Thank you for your support and spreading the word about GUSEGG 2014!

Wishing you all the best and looking forward to having your students participate,
